I. Policy

It is Gulf University for Science & Technology (GUST) policy that under no circumstances are faculty members allowed to accept gifts, offers for services, or any other “advantage” from students or their families. The opportunity for such acts to be misinterpreted or to create a potential for a future quid pro quo is simply too great. All such offers should be rejected and reported immediately to the Dean. If a gift is left for a faculty member, it should be brought and reported to the Dean immediately.

II. Application

This policy applies to all faculty member of GUST.
